If you're already a library member it's free and simple to join!

We have lift off!

The library is getting ready to launch children into orbit for a space hop adventure this school summer holiday. It's all free fun (out-of-this-world news for us parents!) The Summer Reading Challenge Space Hop is just one of many exciting schemes to help children enjoy books. Children can sign up at any Norfolk Library from the start of the school holidays and pick up a free Space Hop pack, membership card, fold-out poster and stickers. The mission is to help the crew of the Ex Libris set up the first library on the moon whilst outwitting the dastardly Spacekatz who are trying to lead them into a black hole.....

As well as helping the space mission and borrowing some great books, they can visit an interactive website www.spacehop.org.uk to share ideas with authors, illustrators and other readers. Visit the library and start the intergalactic adventure.

You should by now have received your child's report, assuming its not hidden in a school bag! We hope you found the new format both more informative and more readable. If you have any questions after reading it do please arrange a meeting with your class teacher as we don't set up parent consultations in the summer term. We would be grateful if you would take the time to complete the annual questionnaire and reply slip.

We're all off to see the wizard, the wonderful wizard of oz production on Tuesday. Hope you'll come and join us. Then for the rest of the week the children are to meet their new class teachers ready for September.
