SENCO's Introduction

Welcome to my new SEND newsletter. The aim of the newsletter is to give you information about places you can look for support if your child is experiencing difficulties with different aspects of their learning.

If you think your child may be experiencing difficulties in any aspect of school life, please contact your child's class teacher or myself and I will try to help. I can be contacted by email: senco@burevalley.norfolk.sch.uk

Best wishes

Ruth Abramson

Our approach to supporting pupils

Further information about our approaches to supporting pupils with SEND, can be found in our SEN Information report which is located on our website.

Positive Behaviour Support Course

The Positive Behaviour Support (PBS) online course helps families to understand the messages their child is trying to communicate and offers some practical skills and strategies that can be used to help manage behaviours that challenge.

The PBS video sessions, normally available through face to face workshops for families of children awaiting assessments by specialist teams, have been produced during the Covid-19 outbreak to offer support to all families.

Parents can access any or all six video sessions at times convenient to them at

Speech, Language and Communication

If you are concerned about your child's speech, language or communication, you can contact ECCH (East Coast Community Health Speech and Language service) any time between 9am - 12 mid-day Mondays - Fridays on 01502 719830

The following Youtube video gives a summary of what you can do to support your child:
